SOME REPUTATION AS A PREACHER.

Sheep-Stealing Was More in His Line—How Stevenson Was Detected.

About two weeks ago John Claypool, who has a farm six miles north of the city, had thirty-four sheep stolen. William Stevenson, a colored farm hand, was suspected. The sheep were found in a few days later at the Union stock yards, where they had been left by a colored man, to be sold. About the same time Stevenson disappeared with a horse and buggy and several laprobes belonging in the neighborhood of the Claypool farm. The sheep left at the stock yards were never afterward claimed by the colored man, but who had brought them there, but they were later identified by Mr. Claypool as his property. When Stevenson rode away with the horse and buggy he failed to notice several school books which were left in the bottom of the buggy. When he endeavored to sell the pig at Dayton, Ohio, some one happened to look at the school books and saw therein the names of the children to whom they belonged. Stevenson could not explain how the books came there, so he was taken under suspicion. The local department was notified and Stevenson was identified as the man who was last seen with the sheep and the one suspected of stealing the horse and buggy. He was brought to the city yesterday and slated for grand larceny. He denies stealing the sheep, but says he opened the gate at the Claypool farm and the sheep trotted forth. Then Stevenson followed the herd to the stock yards, where he had them penned up for safe-keeping. Stevenson is a powerful man physically and has some reputation as a preacher.

THE LOCAL LEXON.

It Will Begin Its Sessions Again To-night—The Perjury Case.

The Council investigating committee will meet again to-night. City Engineer Brown will probably be on the stand. Part of his testimony has been taken, but the evidence of other witnesses has brought out a number of points on which the committee desires to question him. The investigation thus far has brought out, in the opinion of city officials, nothing of a nature for the committee to base any impeachment proceedings upon. In the broken-stone case the evidence is so conflicting that the committee has decided to lay it before the grand jury and ask that body to see if it can discover who has committed perjury.

HE HAS SERVED FOUR TERMS.

Abe Wilson, the Burglar Caught Saturday Night, Has a Record.

Abe Wilson, the colored burglar caught in the house of Abner Newlin, on Huron street, Saturday night, was questioned by Chief Spahn yesterday. The man says he has no recollection of being in the house. He acknowledged having served four terms in different penitentiaries for burglary. Three of his sentences were received in Ohio and one in this State.

Went to Church, Came Home and Died.

Nicholas Beckley, colored, aged thirty years, was taken sick yesterday noon while returning from church and when but a short distance from his home, No. 43 Superior street, friends carried him home, but he died within a few minutes afterward from hemorrhage of the lungs. The blood rushed from his mouth and ears. Coroner Castor views the remains. The deceased leaves a wife.
